

What a summer term?!

It's not over until it's over...

Another jam packed term has seen flamenco dancers take over our PE hall, sports day madness in Sara Park, music performances that were out of this WORLD and a very proud moment for in our Golden Achievers assemblies. We've had the Million-words reader tea party and the playground is looking great thanks to some mysterious men floating about in yellow jackets (I have been informed that they were from a delivery company called DHL). Well thank you for delivering some beauty back in to our school grounds.

Year 2 have had their annual camping trip in the forest school and the Hippodrome HEN project (no relation to birds) has done amazing work once again taking year 4 and their wizardry into the city centre.

Last but not least we have a brand new school mini-bus! The 17 seater bus will be able to take us on our school trips. I know that some of you will not miss the walk into the city centre but I kind of liked seeing all of the graffiti and businesses on the way. I will not miss the rain though! Only walking in the warm and sunny weather please!

BRING ON THE GAMES!!!!

Women's World Cup

As you can tell from the heading, we are now going to talk about the World Cup. Not just any old... The female one. Let's get straight into it. So let's see hmm...hmm... ah right now we can see that America is dominating ahead to the quarter finals. On 24th June 2019, Sweden crushed Canada 1-0 to get into the quarter finals to compete with Germany.

"To all the girls who don't like football, this is for you. Rainbow Dash is asking you to...TRY YOUR BEST IN EVERYTHING NO MATTER WHAT IT IS."

Cricket

On Saturday 1st June 2019 at 10:30 was a match between NZ and Sri Lanka. The stadium they played in was called an amazing match and I hoped their television or heard it on who supported Sri Lanka are in ets. The next match happened vs Afghanistan. Honestly what wasn't bad but it wasn't good what I mean. Also to be honest, I haven't watched all the matches.

Sophia Gardens, Cardiff. It was everyone who watched it on the radio enjoyed it. The people bad luck. They lost by 10 wickets on the same day was Australia I think it was an ok match. It at the same time if you know

Our girls football team

Now it's time to talk about the girls' football team. Girls in the Regents Park Community Primary school are in 2nd place at the moment which is excellent. All I would say is if they can achieve to get into 1st place to show that they take pride in their games. The children in the football team should be proud of what they are doing. To make our school proud.

To the new press club journalists, I sadly and gladly pass this shining torch of pupil opinion over to you!

I hope that you make our newsletter even more EPIC than we have.

Have a great summer!

OUR Small Heath

The vision:

When you look at Small Heath what do you see? Some would say rubbish and litter, crime and bad driving. Others would say worldly cultures and friendly faces. We hit the bustling Coventry road to find out how local residents feel about Small Heath. We were interested to find out if people were filled with Pride or disdain for their local community.

We visited Ben Harads, Beauty Queens and Kismet Groceries to discover that Small Heath Pride is alive and well! On entering Beauty Queens we saw wigs and make-up supplies from floor to ceiling - a girly girl's dream. When asked about how the business felt about Small Heath they answered, "The people that live within this area are usually very friendly and I would like to share more love around :)" This was the answer we have been searching for to prove Small Heath pride!

Next we went to Kismet Groceries and interviewed a kind woman and her husband. We asked 2 main questions which were "What do you like about and what don't you like about Small Heath?" Their reply was, "We adore Small Heath because of the different cultures but there is a lot of people still in their youth that commit crimes :(" This answer was very truthful since those devastating things do happen.

Finally, we went to Ben Harads and asked the shopkeeper's question. Their was that they Small Heath didn't like the throwing their wherever they don't stand for people littering either!

the same response loved but they people rubbish like. We

From all of these interviews we have rounded up the results that people do love Small Heath and but every town/city has their down sides.

EPIC Arts week!

"The meaning of life is to find your gift, the purpose of life is to give it away" - Pablo Picasso

Great things are done by a series of small things brought together - Vincent Van Gogh

Every hand deserves not to be forgotten.

At school art is more than expression. It is encouraged and spread through every step you take, whether it is clay model, or expressing themselves in paint or hip-hopping through their playground at regents park we embrace them for 25 years this school have a tradition of arts week commencing Monday 24 of June to Friday 29th of June. But the real question why do we have arts week? I might squiggle something with paint, that's ART!

I might write something down, that's art; I might sit on a chair made of clay and leave an imprint of my bottom, to some that is ART! ART! ART! Everything is art in somebody's opinion.

We have been lucky enough to embrace art in a momentous week and I am sad to leave this school and enter a school that does not have the same traditions.

For all of the people who have embraced this week.
