

Student catch-up

World Book Day:

World Book Day was amazing this year! The school was awash with so many characters brought to life by noticeable costumes.

A lot of different things happened on World Book Day. For example a teacher from year 1 went all the way to year 6 to read them a book. This also meant that the year 6 had to act like year 1 children (er... thanks Miss Aston lol).

As usual there was a competition for who had the best costume. However, this year the 'Reading Out Loud' competition was a little something different. A winner from every class was chosen by the Millionaire reader judges (Accelerated Reader). Congratulations to all who took part. If you didn't get practising and there should be a chance next year!

Written by: Milkyway

WORLD WATER DAY!

World water day is so we can save water and its happening in other schools as well as ours it's about tackling the "no water" crisis. It's on the 22nd of March and is about leaving no-one behind. World water day's goal at the end of 2030 is for everyone to have clean water. Today many people (billions in fact) are still living without water- their households, schools, workplaces, farms and factories are struggling to survive and thrive. Women, children, refugees, indigenous people, disabled people and others are sometimes facing discrimination and are often overlooked as they try to access and manage the safe water they need.

Sports news/ Results

We have fantastic news! Our girls football team are UNDEFEATED so far this term! The girls are playing in the Greet League and have won 4 out of 4 of their matches. Their coach Mr Kane has high hopes for the team this year. Let's get the trophy this year girls! The entire school is behind you!

Other sporting news

REFUSED TO BE SUBSTITUTED

When a football player plays as part of a team, teamwork is crucial to team success. Some would argue that every team needs a leader or boss so that everyone knows where they stand. This however was not the case for Kepa Arrizabalaga, the Chelsea goalkeeper. Kepa refused to be substituted in the second half which resulted in a loss against Manchester City, in a penalty shootout.

Sarri (the manager) was so furious that he almost left the Wembley football stadium. Willy Caballero (substitute goal keeper) was really devastated and frustrated that he could not play in the game. Even though Kepa was determined to stay on but from what I saw he was in a terrible condition to play because he had been hurt multiple times throughout the match. Ultimately the Chelsea manager Sarri forgave Kepa for his behaviour. What do you think?

In my opinion I think Kepa should have come off of the pitch. Sometimes the managers can see things from the side lines that players cannot see, similar to the way that some teachers can see ways to help us improve our work/ learning that us students cannot see. It's all perspective and teamwork. If Kepa was substituted his team could have taken the Carabao Cup home, but now we'll never know...

Remember teamwork makes the dream work;- P!

Written by: Oreos

Student voice: Politics

POLITICS

From a child's perspective I HATE POLITICS! This is because people like Theresa May are always arguing about BREXIT and Donald Trump is always shouting "MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN" {more like make America WORSE again}.

Personally I think Theresa May should have BREXIT for breakfast. Recently, as heard on many news reports, Trump ordered out. Both these politicians don't care about citizens all they care about is arguing.

Written by: Liverpool Legend

Cartoon by Liverpool Legend

Your Press Club Members

Special Features:

Big BANG Fair

This term year 6 visited the BIG Bang Fair at the NEC. They had the chance to look at different science experiments and even got to see real life robots, rock climbing, chemical explosions and try out some really cool virtual reality games. The BIG Bang Fair was not only fun, year 6 learnt a lot and got to enjoy an unforgettable experience.

Written by: Liverpool Legend

The Red Spectacle:

Everyone got into the spirit of Red nose day, but no one more so than our headteacher Mr Beale!

We recommend:

Jam Jar VS Eis Cafe

In my opinion, my favourite dessert shop is Jam Jar (so far) because it has high Google ratings, the flavours are delicious and not to mention the shop itself is always clean (cleanliness is important to me lol). When I go to Jam Jar my favourite dessert to order is the waffles with creamy vanilla ice cream, topped with luscious chocolate sauce. When you take a bite of this delectable dessert the chocolatey goodness will explode on your taste buds, leaving you licking the spoon, licking your fingers and scraping the bowl. If you haven't tried these waffles yet, I suggest that you go as fast as you can! Obviously, there are more delicious treats and sweets that you can eat at Jam Jar such as: cookie dough, refreshing mojitos, soft server ice cream and so much more.

Written by: Rainbow Cookie

As a child myself, I know kids absolutely adore desserts therefore you should definitely look no further than Jam Jar's, Small Heath!

Written by: Rainbow Cookie

Eis café is the best dessert shop as it has a wider variety of delicious snacks/desserts than Jam Jar. If you are looking for mouth-watering snacks to share with your family I would really suggest Eis café. It is excellent!

Written by: Rainbow Dash

You decide!

Quote of the month

Don't limit your challenges Challenge your limits

(unknown)