NORTHFIELD

Community Partnership

We are proud at Northfield Community Partnership to announce for the 9th year we are bringing our beaches back, with this year having double the fun with two beaches! One on Kings Norton Green and one on Price's Square in Northfield Town Centre.

We understand that the last year has been especially difficult during the Pandemic, with young people not being able to take part in usual fun activities. That is why here at NCP we are determined to make this year's beaches the best yet!

As ever we have a fun packed line up of beach favourites, our Jurassic Park days, with Dino digs and our Tyrannosaurus Rex and baby dinosaurs, new to this year for Northfield is our Tiny! Come and meet Tiny the Triceratops and enjoy his interactive show! Arts and Crafts activities will be provided by NAF daily.

Join us for the super samba Saturdays with Oya Batucada who will perform and hold workshops to learn to play percussion instruments, culminating in a parade!

We also have a storytelling tent provided by Spoz, a renowned performer and poet laureate, who will entrance the children telling his funny and magical stories (Kings Norton only). Come along and see our circus performers and take part in a circus workshop! We also have silent discos at both Kings Norton and Northfield events.

Sporting activities will be provide at both events all day in Victoria Common and in Kings Norton Park

Sundays see a return to live Music at both events with ever popular beach favourites Johnny 2 Bad performing at Northfield and, the Ska 45's at Kings Norton Green.

As ever all the activities that we provide will be free, and we would like to thank all of our funders and friends for making this possible. We hope that there will be something on offer for all the family and we look forward to welcoming you back to the beaches!

We're getting ready for the best summer ever in Birmingham with England's biggest new holiday activities and food programme...so let's Bring it on Brum!

Some welcome news for Birmingham parents worrying about what to do with their kids this summer holidays: Birmingham Holiday Activities is launching Bring it on Brum! a fantastic local holiday programme for all ages to help make the school holidays more fun for children - and less stressful for parents! Throughout the summer holidays from July 21st to September 1st, children aged five to 16 will be able to come along to the Bring it on Brum! holiday clubs across the city to help make it a holiday to remember. They'll be able to enjoy all sorts of fun activities for their age group and a tasty meal each day. There will be sports and games, arts and crafts, cookery, dance, music and more – daily programmes will vary depending on the site and location of each local club.

Everyone deserves a good break and school holidays are better when there's a great choice of things to do to keep young people active, having fun, being entertained, and learning new things. It's all about making memories, recharging the batteries - and giving parents a bit less to worry about!

The programme is open to families with school-aged children, and all activities and food are being laid on for free – some eligibility criteria will apply. Providers will be setting up their holiday clubs in local communities right across the whole of Birmingham so they're within walking distance of those who will benefit most.

Jenny Carter, Programme Director for Birmingham Holiday Activities said: "We can't wait for the school holidays to start so that we can help make this summer one to remember – ensuring our children eat well, get active and have fun with friends over the holidays. It also means we can prepare them for a successful return to school when summer is over."

"We know there are families in our city who need support over the summer – with childcare during the working day, and to ensure their kids can access good food. We're looking forward to meeting all those young people and helping them have their best summer, so let's Bring it on Brum!"
